1. AN INTRODUCTION TO PAIA AND POPIA

- 1.1 The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 ("PAIA") came into operation on 9 March 2001, which among other things,
 - 1.1.1 seeks to give effect to the Constitutional right of access to any information held by the State or by any other person where such information is required for the exercise or protection of any right and gives natural and juristic persons the right of access to records held by either a private or public body, subject to certain limitations, in order to enable them to exercise or protect their rights;
 - 1.1.2 sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to information requests, including the obligation to compile a PAIA Manual;
 - 1.1.3 obliges both public and private bodies to compile a PAIA manual, which PAIA manual sets out how a person, who is desirous of requesting certain information which he/she/it believes he/she/it has a right to, may go about requesting such information.
- 1.2 Where a person is desirous of obtaining information from a private and / or private body, in terms of PAIA, then such person must make a request for this by following the laid-out procedure and using the prescribed forms, described under the private and / or private body's PAIA Manual.
- 1.3 On receipt of the request, the body receiving the request must decide if it is able to provide the requested information to the requester in accordance with the provisions of PAIA.
- 1.4 The Protection of Personal Information Act, 4 of 2013 ("POPIA"), which largely commenced on 1 July 2020, gives effect to a person's rights to privacy, including the rights to data privacy, and which Act, in accordance with this objective, describes and prescribes a series of conditions which have to be met when personal information is processed and used by another person, which conditions establish the minimum requirements for the processing of personal information.
- 1.5 POPIA amends certain provisions of PAIA, balancing the need for access and to information against the need to ensure the protection of personal information.
- 1.6 POPIA has established the office of the Information Regulator who will oversee and ensure that POPIA and PAIA are complied with by all persons, including individuals, and public and private entities in South Africa.

17.3 If the request for access to information affects a third party, then such third party must first be informed within 21 (twenty-one) days of receipt of the request. The third party would then have a further 21 (twenty-one) days to make representations and/or submissions regarding the granting of access to the record.

18.3 In the event that you are not satisfied with the outcome you are entitled to apply to the Information Regulator or a court of competent jurisdiction to take the matter further.

18.4 Where a third party is affected by the request for access and the Information Officer has decided to grant you access to the record, the third party has 20 (twenty) days in which to appeal the decision in a court of competent jurisdiction.
